ITALY HOLDS MURDERER.

Notice was received in Roanoke, Va., yesterday from the State Department by the Baldwin Detective Agency that Pietro Spigo, the Italian who shot and killed Paymaster W. H.
Oakley at Rock, W. Va., over a year ago and then robbed him of over $1,700, had been captured at his home in northwestern Italy and is now confined in the Italian prison at Toramo.

Spigo shot Oakley, who was paymaster for D. W. Flicker, a railroad contractor of Roanoke, from ambush, firing on him as he walked down a road with two companions, both of whom were unarmed and who fled when the paysmaster fell dead.
The murderer then robbed the dead man and escaped through the mountains to Pochontas, where he was traced. He went to Cincinnati, thence to New York, where all trace was lost until a few months ago, when it became known he was in Italy. American Ambassador Leishman, at Rome finally accomplished his arrest through the Italian government, which refused to extradite him, but he will be tried in Italy. All the evidence of the murder and robbery will have to be sent through the State Department. This is the second murderer traced to foreign lands and captured by the Baldwins, the first being the assassin Frank Assad, who murdered a kinsman in Roanoke and fled to Argentina.

SENATOR ELKINS REFUSED CONDITIONS.

A special cable dispatch from Rome says:
According to a story told here the Duke of Ascoli, gentleman in waiting to Queen Helene, at a dinner in Palermo, said to several of the guests that the obstacles to the proposed match between the Duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katharine Elkins were enormous, as Queen Helene and Dowager Queen Margherita, the Duchess of Aosta and Princess Letitia, the Duke of the Abruzzi's stepmother, regarded it as a mesalliance.
"King Victor Emmanuel," continued the Duke of Ascoli, "in a weak moment wrote a letter to Miss Elkins, virtually giving his consent to the marriage on certain conditions. These were that the dowry should exceed a specified sum—about $20,000—that her parents should abstain from fre-quencing the Italian court, and that Miss Elkins, after she became the Duchess of the Abruzzi, should not return to American without the king's consent, and then only under the strictest incognito. Concerning the small amount of the dowry suggested by the king it is explained that Abruzzi has a fortune of $10,000,000 and that the king desired to show that he was not influenced by any monetary consideration.

"When the marriage," negotiations were resumed recently," added the Duke of Ascoli, "Senator Elkins refused to accept any of the conditions."

CANALEJAS LOSING IN FAVOR.

Mgr. Vico, the papal nuncio at Madrid, has returned from Zarauz after a month's stay at the summer resort, and with his reappearance in the capital the organization of the electoral campaign against Premier Canalejas is proceeding with renewed activity.
Great preparations under the direction of the priests are being made for the inauguration of a series of manifestations and meetings of protest to be held throughout the country on October 2, the day before the Cortes reassembles. Particular care will be taken that the meetings assume a patriotic and peaceful character.

Hostility toward the premier is growing in court circles, many of the ladies of the court having already signified an intention to remain in retirement so long as Premier Canalejas continues in power.

ATTEMPT TO LYNCH A NEGRO.

James Yellets, a negro barber of Wrightsville, Pa., was attacked by a mob of several hundred persons who made a strenuous effort to lynch him yesterday afternoon.
He had sent a Black Hand letter to Miss Helen Detweiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Detweiler, prominent residents of the borough. The negro was slightly injured, but was finally lodged in the borough lockup.

In his letter to Miss Detweiler, received Wednesday, the negro, after stating that he was in love with her, demanded that she place $25 at a certain place on the Detweiler farm or forfeit his life.

Miss Detweiler and her parents were greatly alarmed, and decided that they would do as the letter requested. Going to the place designated in the letter Mr. Detweiler and his daughter were deposited the money when they saw a negro standing in a cornfield watching their actions. Mr. Detweiler started after the colored man, but he was too fleet of foot and escaped. Miss Detweiler recognized the negro as Yellets, and a warrant was sworn out for his arrest.

News of the negro's threats spread like wildfire, and when the constables took him into custody a crowd collected and there were cries of "Lynch him!"
"Kill him!" "Give him justice now!" Some threw stones at him, and several struck his mark.

PREDICTS DEMOCRATIC LAND- SLIDE.

"As Maine went, so Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New York will go," said Eugene N. Foss, Representative in Congress from the Fourteenth district of Massachusetts, yesterday. "The wave of unrest will sweep throughout the country and make the next Congress overwhelmingly democratic. Nothing can now stop it."

"I attribute the main cause for the landslide in Maine to the tariff and high prices and general conditions," said Mr. Foss. "I made a speech in Portland the night before the election and those were the points that I dwelt upon. I was deeply impressed by the close attention of the audience."

"Of course, the liquor question has been before the Maine voters for many years, and it naturally was a factor, but the real underlying cause of the overturn was the tariff and high prices.
I know this from what I have been told by men prominent in the politics of that state. And what is true of Maine is true of every state in the union. The Maine result means a democratic landslide."

"What the democrats should do now is to nominate their best men. If they do that, there is nothing that can stop them."

BOY SEES ANGELS.

After sleeping continuously for 24 days, Julian Brice, a 17-year-old boy, of Gainesville, Ga., awoke yesterday afternoon. The boy is extremely weak, but the physicians think he will live.

The boy talked about visions he had had during his remarkable trance.
Most of his talk was of heaven and the angels he claimed to have seen. Asked for a more detailed description the boy declared he must be silent as to some of the things he had witnessed.

Twenty-four days ago young Brice, after taking part in a baseball game, went home, and after a bath fell into slumber, which continued until yesterday afternoon.

Several times during his long trance young Brice smiled and whispered,
"I am in heaven, and want to remain."

GUESTS DRAW CARRIAGE.

A newly married couple, who began their wedding journey in an open carriage drawn to the railway station by 20 of their friends instead of by horses made a novel spectacle in the streets of Danbury, Conn., yesterday.

The bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cuneo, who were married in St. Joseph's Church in Danbury, yesterday. Mrs. Cuneo was Miss Mary Isabel Cassassa, daughter of a local merchant.

A reception at the bride's home followed the wedding, and at its conclusion Mr. and Mrs. Cuneo entered a carriage to be driven to their train. A score of the guests surrounded the vehicle, unhitched the horses and took their places at the pole.

In this fashion Mr. and Mrs. Cuneo traveled through two miles of streets in the centre of the city, with hundreds of people following.
